I saw this little blurb about choosing a positive attitude and it reminded me of how Brother and Sister Sermon always have a positive outlook toward people and situations. I thank them for that model of carrying positive attitudes in every circumstance.

"Your attitude is your choice. It always is. We live in an age that has developed the art of shifting blame to very high levels, and sometimes we get caught up in that same tendency. "Well, if you had my job you wouldn't be so positive." "If you had my kids, you wouldn't feel so good." "If only my boss ere different, I could be a positive person." In other words, "My bad attitude is not my fault!"

The truth is, however, your attitude and mine are always our choice. No matter how bad things are, no one can force you to have a bad attitude if you don't want to, and no matter how good things are, no one can force you to have a good attitude if you don't want to. Now that should come as really good news because it says our attitudes don't have to be the victims of our circumstances or of other people. We choose our responses.."

God's Instrument

I see the hands that hold God's word
And fold in prayer to seek His will.
I see the feet that walk the path
And offers of praise as from lofty hill.
I see the hands that serve Him well,
The ears that seek to hear His call,
The mouth that speaks truth and wisdom,
The busy feet that carry the message to all.
I see the heart that was pricked and entered
When God's man answered the gospel call
And yielded His life as a humble servant,
A man who is willing, as was Apostle Paul.
I see all of this as he stands in the pulpit,
An instrument through which God speaks
The words of wisdom, of love and peace,
To lead and guide all those whom God seeks.

Praying Daily...

Prayer is a sort of like an unlocked door with a giant, red-lettered sign on it that says: "Welcome. Feel Free to Take Whatever You Need." Inside is the storehouse of all that God is. He invites us to share it all. He doesn't intend for us to stay on the outside and struggle all alone with the perplexities of life, and He not only invites us to come in but to stay in, in order that His "Grace and peace be yours in fullest measure, through the knowledge of God and Jesus our Lord" 2 Peter 1:2 It is an ongoing process, not just an occasional religious sounding speech we make to a nebulous divinity "out there somewhere ." Prayer is meant to be a part of our lives, like breathing and thinking and talking.

God's Grace

Life can suddenly become filled with problems. Regardless of their source, they dominate your life until you have found a solution.

Discussing a problem with a trusted friend often puts it in the right perspective. There are, however, some people who delight in talking about their problems, while secretly hoping never to find a solution, because then they won't have much left to talk about.

If you are experiencing a problem and sincerely seek a solution, direct your thoughts to God and don't focus on the problem. You cannot find a solution to your problem if you do not allow God to assist you.

Tell God about your problem, and continually confirm His might. Allow Him to create order in the chaos and to give you the right solution. When God becomes more important than your problem, you will be fueled by a spiritual power, because God is occupying His rightful place in your life. You will find solutions to your problems and by His grace you will be able to live victoriously.

Stay Focused on Him

The goal of your enemy is to rob you of your faith...and ultimately your will. The best way for him to accomplish that is to get you to take your eyes off Jesus and focus on negative circumstances. Whatever we focus on becomes our reality.

Let me remind you today that Jesus hasn't gone anywhere...He's still there. He still loves you. He still holds the key. He wants to be your reality!

John 20:27

27 Then he said to Thomas, "Put your finger into my hands. Put your hand into my side. Don't be faithless any longer. Believe!"

Reach out your hand today and touch Jesus!

Sweet Potato Casserole

Ingredients

- 2 pounds sweet potatoes, peeled and cut into 1 inch cubes
- 1/4 cup brown sugar
- 1/4 cup maple syrup
- 1/4 cup milk (or cream)
- 2 eggs
- 1/4 cup butter, room temperature
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/4 cup flour
- 3 tablespoons butter, melted
- 1/2 cup pecans, coarsely chopped

Directions

Boil the sweet potatoes in water until tender, about 20-30 minutes, drain and mash.

Mix in the sugar, maple syrup, milk, eggs, butter, cinnamon, vanilla and salt and pour the mixture into a baking dish.

Mix the brown sugar, flour butter and pecans until it forms crumbs and sprinkle it on top of the sweet potatoes.

Bake in a preheated 375F until golden brown on top, about 30 minutes

We've all done it! We've gotten angry. There are a lot of reasons to get angry. You may have not gotten a good grade on your math test and you're angry at yourself for not studying more. You could be angry because you see someone at your school getting bullied, and you wish that people treated others with more respect. Or perhaps you've gotten angry because someone auditioned for the school play and got the part you knew you deserved. Anger can come to us from many different sources.

Anger in itself isn't necessarily bad. It's your response to anger that can make or break you in life. For example, if you got angry that you didn't get a good grade on your math test. And let's say you used that anger to motivate you to study harder for the next test. That response to anger would be good. You channeled your anger into something productive, like studying harder for a test.

Sometimes though, your response to anger can be bad. If you allow your anger to consume you you can do things you regret. The story of Cain in Genesis four is a good example of this. Cain got angry with his brother Abel and that anger drove him to ultimately kill Abel. The Lord asked Cain, "Why are you angry? Why does your face look sad? You know that if you do what is right, I will accept you. But if you don't, sin is ready to attack you. That sin will want to control you, but you must control it."

Cain said to his brother Abel, "Let's go out to the field." So they went to the field.

Then Cain attacked his brother Abel and killed him. – Genesis 4:6-8 (ERV)

Cain made a bad decision out of anger. He chose to kill his brother Abel. Now, we know that killing someone is wrong, and most of us aren't tempted to kill someone, but what do you do when someone gets something you feel is unfair? Do you talk about them behind their back? Give them the silent treatment? Or maybe try to get even with them?

Doing these types of things will not help you in the long run. It might make you feel better in the moment, but trying to get even or not treating someone nice isn't the right way to respond to anger. When you get angry, you have a choice to make. Will you sin when you get angry and do something you may later regret, or will you channel that anger into something positive in your life. Ephesians 4:26 says it like this:

"When you are angry, don't let that anger make you sin," and don't stay angry all day. – Ephesians 4:26

When you get angry, choose to not get even or hurt someone else. Choose instead to channel your anger into something positive.
